

The Isle of Man

Where world-class yachts choose to belong

The Isle of Man continues to set the benchmark for maritime excellence. From adopting the Large Commercial Yacht Code in 2003 to introducing the Yacht Engaged in Trade (YET) Scheme in 2025, the island has always been the trusted choice for owners seeking regulatory strength, Red Ensign prestige, and world-class service.

Quadrant Group Ltd has been at the forefront from day one—registering the island’s first commercial yacht and now achieving another milestone with the first yacht registered under the YET Scheme.

“Having registered the Isle of Man’s first commercial yacht New Century back in 2003, it’s a real privilege to be part of another important milestone with the first superyacht registered under the new YET Scheme.

Over the years, the IOM Ship Registry has consistently shown its ability to evolve alongside the superyacht industry, providing practical solutions without compromising on quality, compliance or service.

The YET Scheme is another example of that forward thinking approach which now provides qualifying superyacht owners with greater flexibility at a time when operational efficiency is becoming increasingly important. We are proud to have played a role in its first successful registration and look forward to seeing it being adopted more widely in the years ahead.”

The Isle of Man Ship Registry, in partnership with Aon and Intact Insurance, now offers a bespoke insurance programme for Isle of Man-registered yachts 24m LLL and above.

What you gain:

- Comprehensive, yacht-specific cover
- Competitive pricing
- Specialist marine insurance expertise
- Added value for Isle of Man-flagged yacht

Confidence. Capability. Coverage. Exclusively for the Isle of Man fleet.

Sentient International Ltd is the first to secure this cover, proving its competitiveness.

“As a corporate service provider responsible for supporting clients with the management of high-value assets, it is essential that we can introduce solutions that combine quality cover, commercial value and trusted counterparties.

As the first organisation to place cover through this new Isle of Man Ship Registry insurance programme, we have been extremely impressed by both the competitiveness of the offering and the quality of service.

For our client’s fleet of Isle of Man-flagged vessels, the programme has provided meaningful premium savings alongside the reassurance of comprehensive specialist yacht cover.

The collaboration between the Isle of Man Ship Registry, Aon and Intact Insurance has been responsive, professional and reliable from the outset, and reinforces the Isle of Man’s position as a leading international yacht registry, combining high regulatory standards with genuine commercial advantages for yacht owners.”
